Holstein Brings $35,000.

An event of great interest and importance to the Holstein-Friesian breeding industry took place Sept. 14, when the Fred F. Field Holstein company of Brockton, Mass., purchased of Mrs. Franc A. Smith of Brainardhurst, Alexander, N. Y., the 4-year-old bull, King Segis Pontiac Konigen 97988, paying $35,000 therefor.

The price paid—$35,000—seems a large sum, but these figures are declared absolutely bona fide by the parties concerned in the transaction. Mrs. Smith considers the bull a peerless animal and sells him to give him the opportunity demanded by his great breeding; and Mr. Field bought him to breed to the daughters of Dutchland Creamelle Korndyke Lad, whom he considers quite as good a bull as the one just purchased. He believes that by bringing together these two great families he is uniting the greatest producing families of the breed for both milk and butter, in the early and short time tests.

In his breeding of Holstein cattle, Mr. Field has always advocated individuality, with fine types of udder, great depth of body, and large flow or milk, with as high fat per cent as possible under normal conditions, as typical of the Holstein cow. He disapproves of high records made through scientific manipulation under abnormal conditions. He is a believer in fine breeding but not in inbreeding.

STRUCK BY AUTO.

Simon Vermette Run Over by Auto Driven by Dr. J. M. Allen of St. Johnsbury and Instantly Killed.

Simon Vermette, the 15-year-old son of M. and Mrs. Fred Vermette, was struck and instantly killed by an automobile owned and operated by Dr. J. M. Allen near the Morrill farm on the Lyndonville road Friday afternoon, Oct. 13. Vermette, who was employed on the farm, and Leroy Brooks, another farm hand, were on their way to a pasture when Brooks heard the car behind them.

There was ample time to get out of the way and he warned the boy, but for some unknown reason the latter waited until the car was almost upon them and then jumped directly in front of it. One of the lamps struck him and the car passed completely over him.

Dr. C. A. Crampton was called but found life extinct. An inquest was held Saturday and an autopsy performed on the body by Dr. B. H. Stone of Burlington.

REACHES CENTURY MARK

Mary Fields Hadley of Brattleboro Celebrates Her 100th Birthday—In Good Health and Enjoys the Day.

Mary Field Hadley, widow of Hannibal Hadley of Brattleboro observed with a reception in her home Sunday afternoon from three to five o'clock the 100th anniversary of her birth in West Brattleboro. She was the recipient of 100 roses from Miss Mary Cabot, of many beautiful flowers from the Woman's association of the Center Congregational church, of which she has been a member since 1838, and by special gifts from the Mary Field Hadley class of that school. There were numerous other remembrances.

Mrs. Hadley is in remarkable health, considering her years, and knits and reads a great deal. She arises late in the morning and enjoys a nap in the afternoon, but does not retire usually until about 11 o'clock at night. While many called to extend congratulations Mrs. Hadley apparently showed no ill effects of the unusual activity.

She is a daughter of David and Patty Wood Field. She graduated from the local schools at the age of 14 and taught school in East Northfield, Venon, and Dummerston several terms. She also gave sewing lessons. At 20 years of age she married Hannibal Hadley, proprietor of a meat market. He died many years ago. At the age of ten years she made a stage coach trip from Brattleboro to Boston to visit an uncle, leaving there at three in the morning and reaching Boston about ten at night. Six years ago she enjoyed her first automobile ride, but says she prefers a horse and carriage. Two of the four children born to her are living. They are Mrs. Emily Huntington Emerson, with whom she lives, and Mrs. Elizabeth Holman Selleck, who lives in the other part of the double house, which has been Mrs. Hadley's home for 75 years.

On September 15 the index figure of prices for these meat animals was about 23.7 per cent higher than a year ago, 10.5 per cent higher than two years ago, and 22.5 per cent higher than the average of the past six years on September 15.

The price of hogs on September 15 averaged for the United States $9.22 per 100 pounds, compared with $8.61 a month before, $6.79 a year ago, and $7.48, the average September 15 price of the past six years.

Beef cattle averaged $6.55 per 100 pounds, compared with $6.51 a month ago, $6.06 a year ago, and $5.46, the average September 15 price of the past six years.

Sheep averaged $6.25 per 100 pounds, compared with $6.22 a month before, 5.06 a year ago, and $4.49, the average September 15 price of the past six years.

These averages are based upon reports of several thousand correspondents of the Bureau of Crop Estimates of the department.
